Now is not the time to increase fossil fuel usage, nor is it acceptable to pollute the Pacific Northwest in so doing. Renewable energy is already displacing coal-burning power; why make the world a worse place in order to chuck some profits to coal executives?

We know that coal is dangerous to the health of its workers and those who use it; its transportation would harm rivers and streams; it would impact those most adversely who live near the terminal. Coal's use is not the best choice for human and animal, perhaps even vegetable, health.

Re: Millennium Bulk Terminals Longview - Coal Export Terminal

This disastrous project has been rejected before for many reasons and they all still apply, it should be rejected again! First is the awful impacts to the environment especially the Columbia River, next the costly impacts to Native Americans and their lifeways, then the foolish policy of expanding fossil fuel use, then the terrible record of MBT and their failure to disclose critical details of the project, then the wrong-headed idea that export profit is more important than conserving America's natural resources, then the fact that it is the totally unhinged Trump administration that is advocating for this horrible project instead of working to make this country a leader in solar and renewable energy technologies. This project is stupid beyond belief!

This area of America deserves better treatment from Washington. Both the people living in the NW and those who love it's pristine beauty deserve to have it maintained. Think about the children present and future and the indigenous people past, present and future. Don't put it all at risk for a soon to be obsolete energy source. Protecting should be the response.

Re: Millennium Bulk Terminals Longview - Coal Export Terminal

"Millennium Bulk Terminals' proposed coal export terminal would severely impact water quality in the Columbia River, and countless streams and rivers would be harmed by Millennium's coal trains. The terminal will also harm local communities, wildlife and Native people and exacerbate runaway climate change. You must reject Millennium's application for Section 401 Water Quality Certification."
