Joan Coffey-Wray

As a resident of Texas and specifically of the Canyon Lake area, I continue to become more alarmed and concerned regarding the area's water supply. You are currently considering permits for a few large developments to release affluent into tributaries of the lake. The drought conditions we live under and the sensitive recharge areas for the Edward's and Trinity aquifers put our water supply under constant risk. Risk of contamination and lack of adequate water supply is consistently increased each year with developments and unrestrained growth in the area. The lake and its surrounding recharge zones deserve the same protection other Texas lakes and recharge zones have or do only some citizens deserve clean, safe and an adequate potable water supply. The people are screaming for protection please listen, protect our water!