

Carole Onasch

The dust from this huge amount of open coal trains would accumulate and cause degradation of the water quality, which in turn would cause harm to the wildlife, fish..particularly juvenile salmon and, of course people. the dredging would harm the fish and other marine life.

Furthermore, assisting Fossil fuel infrasture that allows coal to be further burned and more carbon emmissions to be released in our fragile environment is unconsciounable and obscene! We don't need anicient Coal! We need to move forward!