

alice shapiro

With the planet heating up and experiencing catastrophic climate disruptions, coal is dangerous. It also is not a financially sound investment since the cost of renewable energy is diminishing. I urge you to protect the planet and deny permits for the coal export terminal.