

Dan Rogers

We need to transform our energy systems to be more sustainable and eco-friendlier. Building this coal terminal will lock us into years and years of continued coal mining/transporting/burning, exactly at the moment we should be transforming our energy systems away from its use. We can green our energy systems if we stop building fossil fuel infrastructure and begin building for the 21st century. Coal is a dying industry. Keep it in the ground.