

Karen Genest

Washington State is creating a reputation for itself as a leader in Green. Coal just doesn't fit that bill. I think of this every time a coal train passes through Mount Vernon, car after car of coal that's not even covered. The coal dust flies around the town many times per week. Let's be done with coal.