

Erik Hagstrom

Yet another attempt by the current administration supporters to turn back the clock to a time when the health of its citizenry took a back seat to the profits of the businesses with a short term view of their resource.