

Kristen Wolff

I am strongly opposed to this plan. While WGHOGA members want to spray imidacloprid for economic reasons, they fail to grasp the unintended economic consequences of spraying. If a neurotoxin is purposely sprayed into the waters off Washington, I will no longer eat any oysters or other shellfish harvested from those Washington waters. I am confident that I am not alone in holding this position.