

Laura Zerr

There is already issues in keeping run-off water clean from chemicals and pesticides, so why would we allow direct application of a dangerous neonicotinoid into our water system?