

Leslie Spurling

We lived in the Willapa area for many many years and thoroughly enjoyed the bounty of those waters, not the least of which were the incredible oysters. We are sympathetic to the oyster growers' dilemma. However, short sighted solutions to long term problems are the wrong answer. There are outside influences creating the situation that will only be exacerbated by using these toxic chemicals.