

Deborah Cruz

You would think that with all the problems we're having with our shellfish, we would be more careful with them.