

Jim Lazar

I am writing to provide comments on the Draft Municipal Stormwater Permits for Phase I and Phase II permittees in Western Washington.

First and foremost, developers should not be allowed to use municipal stormwater permits. They should have to apply separately, and be separately accountable.

It's also time to ramp up the Low-Impact Development (LID) standards, to require the long-acknowledged 65/10/0 metric.