

Snoqualmie Indian Tribe

The Snoqualmie Indian Tribe feels it is important that feasibility investigations, especially as directed or endorsed by a WREC, should be eligible for funding. I think we need to be able to think big and think creatively, and we will need to investigate feasibility in order to consider creative, innovative, or atypical projects. Similarly, we will need to be able to quantify the streamflow benefit of projects in some way, which may be difficult for projects like floodplain reconnection projects, so I think it makes sense to fund investigation of qualification of projects as well.

Thanks for the opportunity to comment.
