

Carrie Gelegonya

I support increasing spill over the dams of the Columbia and Snake Rivers in order to help more salmon to survive. Our Southern Resident Orcas are in immediate danger of starving to death due to lack of salmon. While breaching the dams would be preferable, increasing spill is a good stopgap measure for the time being.