

Brad Staples

Please look at increased spill through the Columbia River Hydro System to flush migrating Salmon & Steelhead juveniles over the Dam's Spillways, instead of through the turbines. I know that there is a risk of Gas Bubble Trauma that can cause increased mortality, but I believe that the risks are worth it, as that more fish will make it to the Estuary safely.