

Doris Langley

Since exempt wells only account for about 1% of water usage, these proposed changes are not going to make a difference, especially to the fish. But they will have a significant effect on land owners with a well. Please pull back on this over-reach of control and do not change the current 3000 gallon/no metering policy.

At the Ecology meeting in Bellingham, it was stated that no changes were intended. Please follow through with your good intentions.
