

Jeff Brand

The new proposed limits on private well usage of 500 gallons per day is ridiculously insufficient and will restrict our family from being able to provide supplemental food from our property necessary for us to live the lifestyle we have chosen and is an infringement upon our property rights. Evidence shows the effect of wells on instream flows is negligible and you know this. This is just a power grab