

Steve Deem

I strongly support setting nutrient limits for Puget Sound discharges including nitrogen and phosphorous. We (the communities living around Puget Sound) can be better stewards of this water body. The LOTT wastewater treatment plants have already shown that lower nutrient discharge levels can be achieved.