

Kim Patten

There have been no new changes in the science since this permit was issued the first and second time to warrant making any changes in the new permit. The monitoring and reporting system are also working fine, also suggesting that changes to the permit are not necessary.