

Keith Hurley

The PPA is an agreement between the state of Washington and the Federal Government, namely the Environmental Protection Agency. As such any reference to "local clean air agency's", who are not signatories to the document, should be removed.