

Bridget Johnston

I have been smelling the output of this plant for some time now and it is just sickening. Isn't it bad enough we have poisoned soil from Asarco plant? Washington state needs to lead the way on legalizing hemp production which produces little to no waste and yields even better paper. Spend money on some testing and get this plant under control or we have no choice but to sell our homes and run away from this toxic pit.