

Graham Hubenthal

This project is a net loser for Washingtonians. Washington gets dirty air and water while California customers get 'clean' electric power. Department of Ecology should deny permitting for this project. Go back to the drawing board, Westrock!