

Susan Tommervik

I am concerned that these highly toxic substances could end up in the Bay due to natural disasters such as earthquakes or landslides, or even by train derailments. I think they should be transported elsewhere, with less possibility of toxic pollutants ending up in our waterway, harming our marine ecosystem and industries.

Please hold a public hearing on these plans.

Thank you.