

Andre Armantrout

I have no issues with the proposed project as long as all state and federal emissions laws are complied with. I am sure if that is followed then many of particulates, NOx, etc will be under control and have very little impact on human health.