

Idaho Transportation Department

The Idaho Transportation Department is interested in this proposed project, and its potential impact to Idaho's transportation system. The department would like to review any analysis performed relative to potential transportation/traffic impacts.