I am totally "in favor" of the Pac West Smelter south of Newport Wa.... The economic impact outweighs some of the public comments and skepticism. This corner of Washington State is a very poor area and in need of good jobs, this project will help economic growth and bring other businesses to this area plus i believe it will increase property values instead of decrease values.

I own property on the PO river out side of Old Town/Priest River in Idaho and i see how poor this area is, both on the Washington side and Idaho side along the border.

I hope EPA as diligent as they are, the impact of smelter will be minimal.
