Ecology Director Maia Bellon:

This proposal is lacking in science and detail. As such, asking the public what to study and to prognosticate about the science and the impacts is bad process. Ask me about what to study after you provide the basic science, information and detail of this proposal. Further, this is an inter-jurisdictional proposal at the WA/ID state line. Similar to the Spokane River NPDES, it should require an inter-jurisdictional process with strong federal EPA involvement and leadership. All agencies and jurisdictions in the airshed/watershed should be at the table to represent their interests and authorities for all public meetings and hearings on this proposal. Thank you.
