

Anonymous Anonymous

study the long and short term effects of coarse and fine silica dust on all classes of humans and small forest fauna such as honey bees, bumble bees, salamanders, newts, frogs, toads, skinks, birds and minor species of animals. Pollinators need protection locally. Health of children and people with breathing disabilities need assessment as to possible adverse effects on their lifestyle /exposure..