

Margaret Underwood

I want the EIS to include the role of experience in the level of risk involved with the PacWest proposal. What is the difference between smelters owned by those with extensive prior experience in silicon smelting vs. those with little or none? Include in the EIS the level of experience the owners/CEOs of this proposed smelter and the level of increased risks associated with minimal experience. How will this be mitigated?