

D Haun

The primary argument I've heard in favor of the smelter is that it will provide jobs, but jobs can come from many places, and jobs come and go. The pollution and other negative effects to the environment will far outlast any benefits brought by a small number of jobs. We live here for the clean air, clean water, and abundance of wildlife. Please don't sacrifice that.