

Kelli Manos

I live in WA State near Newport and my parents live at Priest Lake. I spend a lot of time in Newport and it's one of the main towns where I shop. I already know what smelters do to the air — I've seen it — and I don't want it here. The only reason Olympia would let it be here is because there aren't many voters here and therefore they wouldn't lose many votes. Otherwise the smelter would be in King County. Hi Test is a Canadian company; they can put their smelter in Canada.
