

Elizabeth Schuld

As an avid lover of the outdoors, I can't help but think that the air and water quality will suffer; if not directly from the manufacturing process but from also secondary causes such as increase in truck and auto emissions. I would like these things addressed.