The smelter will sit up on the hill behind my home. I'm not sure of the exact distance but I would guess maybe a mile or so. What I don't understand is the area I live in, that is close to the smelter, is called an Urban growth development. I'm not even allowed to buy a burn permit to burn my brush pile, yet YOU can build a smelter right on the hill behind me? This makes NO sense! I was told if I burned my brush pile I could be fined up to $10,000. This really makes me angry!!
