

Mike Rodden

Some of the expected effluents from the smelter are contributors to acid rain. Two of the Inland Northwest's favorite forage plants are very particular about habitat. These are morel mushrooms and huckleberries. How will these be affected by even small changes in pH?