If I had my way Bonner County would never allow any manufacturing or mining or other industry into this area that created a possible risk to our air, water, beautiful greenery, wildlife and the health of our people. Industry with its chemicals has ruined much of our nation's beauty, wildlife and risked the health of our people. California and other states, for example, have polluted their water and thus people are coming to our area and/or fighting to take our fresh water supply away. Foreigners come in and ruin the land, leaving garbage everywhere, putting sewer from their homes into the water, killing wildlife out of season, polluting the air with chemicals and/or other waste products which results in destruction of the forests and vegetation, turning the beautiful land into a desolate place or a concrete jungle. Others either purposely or carelessly start fires and cause forest fires or farmers burn their fields and pollute the air so bad that it isn't safe to breath it in, especially for people like me who have asthma or other breathing issues. I don't want our beautiful land to turn into another Wallace or Kellogg, Idaho. I despise the destruction these kind of things do to our beautiful place and our health. And no matter how much companies lie and say that won't happen it always does. Or they pay off officials with bribes to get what they want. There is no way for them to know the consequences of their actions until the destruction comes and the damage is already done. Then it's too late. No thank you Washington State, PacWest or any other similar business. You will answer to God for the destruction and death you bring upon our land and our people.
