

Kim Jordan

This will basically create a tax on businesses that you determine are polluting the environment.

1. This will create price hikes for consumers in an inflated economy.
2. If your plan works your funding will be nothing and then where will your funding come from?
3. This is a political attempt to garner more votes by making people 'feel' better.
4. Let's get money from China and other countries that have far worse pollution than we do.
