

Derek Benedict

The Climate Crisis is a clear and present danger to all forms of life on Earth. And the longer we wait, more species will go extinct, and the cost to clean up our planet will only grow exponentially.

Take strong and meaningful action now!

Nothing can live on our planet,
If our environment is not healthy.