

David Randall

Our climate is now crashing as proven by the consistent adverse weather conditions across much of the United States, ie. increase tornados, increased temperatures that threaten human health, drought, forest fires and a predicted unusually active hurricane season in the Atlantic and Gulf regions. Steps must be taken immediately to stop the climate disaster.