

Torie Mielke

Hi, thank you. Uh, my name is Torie Mielke, uh, T-O-R-I-E M-I-E-L-K-E. Um, I actually also work for Gray Harbor Energy in Elma, and, uh, Chris, uh, covered just about anything I would also like to cover. Um, I just want to reiterate that, uh, as the rules are written now, if not amended, um, it would go against the Washington Climate Commitment act, uh, at least the intent of it. And, uh, uh, would also like to propose a rule change, uh, to put all power plants in the state, uh, on the same equal footing so that, uh, we're not put at a severe disadvantage, uh, when it comes to producing what is objectively cleaner, lesser emission power than, uh, most of the facilities that are currently running. Thank you.
