

CHERYL GREENE

Living beings need unpolluted environments to live and thrive. Therefore rules controlling carbon emission are important. As a resident of Newport WA, I and many many others are concerned with the potential construction of a silicon smelter in our midst. Do not let this happen. Please hold every company and our county commissioners to high standards to prevent pollution.