

Mike Smyth

The climate is doing just fine. CO2 has no significant effect on the climate. The Sun and the oceans are the primary drivers of the climate. El Nino and La Nina Pacific Ocean states cause short term changes in temperature and precipitation. CO2 plays no role. The current CO2 concentration has little effect on global temperatures and its ability to absorb addition long-wave radiation is very small.

<https://www.manhattancontrarian.com/blog/2022-10-11-joining-battle-over-the-science-of-global-warming>

It is not the job of government to tell me what kind of car I can own. Any restriction is a violation of my 1st Amendment rights and a violation of my equal protection rights. Electric cars still are carbon emitters, those emissions occur at the power plant instead of the tail pipe. The overall emissions will be much higher because of all of the inefficiencies in generating the electricity, transporting it to the charging station and into the battery.

You have entered into an illegal compact with California. All interstate compacts must be approved by Congress. You have not obtained that permission, so tying our standards to theirs is illegal.