

tyler severy

I only wish the comments matter! You guys don't ask or listen, you parade your grandstand ideas around like they are the only solution. Our grid can't support this mess, with inflation at a record high how on earth do you think you can pay for this? Now there is talk of taking down a hydro dam on the Snake again? How do you align any of these priorities?? Its really hard to be on the other side of your ill thought madness.