

Cindy Carpenter

I think this is completely stupid. Inslee wants to be like California look at the problems they are having with the electric cars not being able to be charged and the batteries exploding. Not to mention how expensive they are. We don't need to be like another state that is failing. Let's try to make our state great again and not a liberal party state. It doesn't work.