

David Vigna

The proposed rule is wrong for Washington State as it is for California, and they will discover that the hard way. I am strongly against the proposed new rules and will lobby against adoption. Please allow the public freedom and preference for transportation choices to dictate the future and do not force transportation use on Washington State citizens.