

Kerry and Elaine Annis

There is no alternative to gasoline powered vehicles as there is not enough electricity to power electric vehicles. And you want to tear down dams, making it worse. So where will the extra electricity come from? There are 3 choices: coal fueled plants, oil fueled plants or nuclear powered plants. Wind fueled is not reliable, and the rest are worse for the environment. Get over yourselves.