

Lisa Bride

Opposed. It is premature with technology. Research and development on batteries and grids are not up to standards. The economy will not withstand the monetary increase at this time. This will create excessive hardship for many. Timing of this proposal will not work in today's environment.