

Michael Smith

As a country have we lost our minds when government can take over and bankrupt companies and corporations. I believe it's unconstitutional. Those politicians can pick winners and losers with inside information getting rich with insider trading (Nancy Pelosi) Government, you don't have the right too tell me what automobile I can buy.Finally, You don't understand that corporations are owned by stock holders. People who have 401ks and retirement plans are being destroyed.
