

Shirley McCullough

This mandate is not feasible in eastern Washington! We have the livelihoods of farmers and ranchers that first of all, cannot afford the cost of purchasing the vehicles and secondly will spend more time charging them than would be profitable. This is totally wrong and is only for the purpose of having more control over the population.