

Robert Holm

This is the most underhanded, cowardly action I have ever seen, especially by supposed mature adults. I was born in California and left as a child. Seeing the state of affairs now, there is no way I'd move back. But now, due to the ridiculous decision of Democrats in our state, California is coming here. I hope virtually all of them go down to defeat in the elections. Get a life, people. The common folks haven't even been given the chance to vote on this.
