

Arnold Houg

I don't think 1 person can stop gas powered cars from being sold. If we are going to have electric vehicles, let them get developed and the technology to facilitate them come naturally. Let's not rush into this and get blindsided by something we don't know enough about.